

2018 Community Leader Healthcare Award

Nora McGuire, RN, MBA

Nora is the Chief Marketing Officer at Independent Health, where she is known for her collaborative spirit and her inclusive nature. Seen as a guiding mentor to all her associates at Independent Health, she is active in the community, helping to lead the fight against breast cancer in WNY. Nora is a trained nurse who brings compassion to everything she does.

At Independent Health, Nora's work is vital to making sure clients in our diverse region, are matched to the policies and services that meet their varied needs. Through her commitment to teamwork and equitable leadership, she is successful in terms of product design and the development of effective outreach strategies. A member of the Women's Group, Nora brings these same skills to her work in the community. As an involved member of the Susan B. Komen Foundation, she serves as president of the local chapter and has chaired their annual Race for a Cure. She is chair of the WNED Advisory Board, treasurer of the Transplant Miracles Foundation, and has served in leadership roles with St. Amelia's School, the American Cancer Society, and the Greater Niagara Frontier Council of Scouts.

For her dedication to the people and causes of our region, the NFJC is proud to recognize Nora McGuire, RN, MBA, with the 2018 Community Leader Award in Healthcare.
