

2020 Community Leader Award in Community Service & Volunteerism

Matthew Stadlmeir

Matthew is a Senior Business Vendor Analyst at M&T Bank, where he uses his keen intellect and interpersonal skills to manage relationships and ensure contract compliance. To some, that may sound like a dry, numbers-based job, but it is the relationship management aspect of it that best speaks to who he is – a people person, known for his kind heart and passion for diversity, he works to empower people of all backgrounds to achieve and succeed.

Matthew is a proud WNYer who seeks out opportunities to get involved. At M&T, he is a member of all thirteen of the bank's identity-based professional resource groups, creating allyship with his African American, LGBTQ, and Women colleagues amongst many others. An avid runner, Matthew has taken part in several races and 5Ks for charity. He also gives of his time and leadership to Youth Mentoring Services of Niagara County, where he is both an active board member and a mentor, himself.

For his many efforts to support and empower youth and professionals of all backgrounds, the NFJC is proud to present the 2020 Community Leader Award in Community Service & Volunteerism to Matthew Stadlmeir.
